Allstate Foundation Award benefits LCC

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Chris Humphrey of Kinston was awarded the Agency Hands in the Community Award for his commitment to volunteering in the community. With this award comes a $500 grant from The Allstate Foundation for the Lenoir Community College Foundation, Inc., where Humphrey volunteers and serves on the Foundation board of directors.

"Allstate believes that it is very important for corporations to take an active interest in the communities they serve," said Allstate Field Vice President Cliff Butler. "Allstate is proud to support such a worthwhile cause through The Allstate Foundation, and this grant will provide much-needed support for the work of the Lenoir Community College Foundation serving Lenoir, Jones, and Greene Counties.

Established in 1952, The Allstate Foundation is an independent corporation funded by contributions from the Allstate Insurance Company. Grants are awarded to non-profit organizations that seek to improve the quality of life in communities across the country.

From the Editor

BY KAMESIA DIXON

On behalf of all the members of The Javelin staff, I would like to personally welcome all returning students, as well as new students. As editor of The Javelin, I am dedicated to doing all I can to make this a great year for you and for Lenoir Community College.

There are so many different things to be involved in at LCC, and I encourage you to get involved. You can join one of the many clubs and organizations or go out for an athletic team. Participating in extracurricular activities will enhance your education more than you know.

There is a very diverse group of students on our college campus and each person has their own voice and their own story. The Javelin is the perfect place to share these stories and much more. We currently have a small staff of writers, but we have positions open for photographers, artists, feature writers, sports writers, columnists, and news writers.

This is an opportunity to gain valuable experience and add to your résumé by becoming a published writer. The Javelin is the voice of the students and it can only be that if the students get involved. The Javelin Office is located in room 127 of the Business Technologies Building, next to the Graphic Arts and Imaging Technology lab. If you are interested in becoming a part of The Javelin, please contact me at lccjavelin@lenoircc.edu.

Again, I welcome you to this 2009-2010 academic year, and I wish you the best of luck in all you decide to do.

SGA President welcomes you

Welcome to Lenoir Community College's 2009-2010 academic school year. I hope you are as excited as I am to be starting (for some), and completing (for others), your educational goals.

I would like to remind students of the duty and purpose of the Student Government Association (SGA). The Student Government Association is designed to enhance the general welfare of students and to facilitate communication between the student body, the faculty, and the administration. The Association provides a means through which students can participate in the governance of the college.

What does that mean? We are your voice. It is important, even vital, for you to know that we, the students, make up Lenoir Community College; inevitably, we would not be here if it were not for you. SGA is not a stand alone association. We serve the student body as a link between the students and the administration; we represent you. But reality is, if you don't speak, we cannot hear you.

Every student at Lenoir Community College who pays an activity fee is a member of the Student Government Association and may attend the meetings. These meetings and events are posted on our Campus Cruiser website. We also have a SGA group on Facebook. We need you to share your views and opinions of bettering our campus, curriculums, programs, and classes.

My goal in improving student involvement, student awareness, student activities, and student participation will not be achieved without you. I encourage you to not just go to class but also to participate in your college's special activities (Fall Fest, blood drives, plays, chorus, Diversity Day, Black History, etc.) and sports games (baseball, basketball, and volleyball). These announcements are always posted on our Campus Cruiser website. Please show your support through your attendance and participation.

As president, my aspirations will be our accomplishments as a student body. God bless you and I wish you a prosperous year.

Ninth annual automotive update held at LCC

BY GARY CLEMENTS

The Lenoir Community College's Automotive Systems Technology program served as host for the ninth annual Automotive Update course for high school and community college automotive instructors recently. This update course is part of the continuing education requirements for ASE/NATEF certified programs. The instructors are required to attend twenty hours of update training per year to meet the ASE/NATEF requirement.

"We had 39 participants attend the training session this year. We were very pleased with the number of participants with the slowed economy and travel restrictions imposed by the state," said LCC Dean of Business and Industry Technologies Gary Clements.

Presenters for the event included Emmett Redmon and Ryan Deane with MATCO

Tools and Bill Burgess with Carolina Training Associates Incorporated. Chris Ongaro with Snap-On Tools arranged the highlight of the event which was hybrid vehicle training and new technological trends being developed and used by Toyota.

David Bliskey with Southeast Toyota Distributors, LLC, was the presenter for this portion of the course.

For more information on automotive career opportunities or the Automotive Systems Technology and the Automotive Management programs at Lenoir Community College, contact LCC interim program head Slade Chatman at 527-6223, ext. 110 or email at schatman@lenoircc.edu.

Ride For Life Oct. 3

BY PHOEBE J. EMORY

On Oct 3, LCC is hosting its second annual Ride for Life event to raise awareness of breast cancer and to fund scholarships for students whose lives have been impacted by cancer. The event will be well-covered by local media and will be an open event to students, their families, and the general public.

The event will include a motorcycle poker run, lunch, entertainment, and booths sponsored by any departments who wish to promote their curriculum.

The only requirement for your booth is that it be either motorcycle or cancer related. Perhaps cosmetology might like to style wigs for display that chemotherapy patients might use, or culinary might like to research and display foods and recipes that are high in antioxidants, business might like to show the costs associated with cancer treatments.. There are endless ideas, and there is a way for every program on campus to come out and promote themselves.

When you have decided what type of booth you'd like to do, please email Phoebe Emory so that we can put you on the list of participating programs.

We are also looking for raffle items. We had wonderful participation from the faculty last year. If your program has gift certificates or items to donate, please send them to Phoebe Emory, Jeanne Kennedy, or Maggie Brown.

Of course, we are looking for great entertainment. We've decided to do a variety show, so if you have a talent or know of a local talent, please call Emory to sign up for our show.
